Nancy is a Principal who defines leading edge strategies for companies to create thriving work environments. Prior to joining the firm, she was Regional Sales Director for a world-renowned health system, bringing true wellness culture change to companies nationwide. In her role as Vice President of a small business association, Nancy led product development and operations related to expansive health insurance, workers' compensation, and energy programs.

Nancy has served in a client management capacity for a multitude of HRIS, mergers and acquisitions, communications, wellness and benefits projects. She has more than 25 years of experience in human resources and benefits, including 17 years with a global consulting firm. Her current consulting focuses on helping organizations drive the change needed to deliver on their corporate objectives.

Nancy received her MA from Kent State University and her BA from Slippery Rock University.
